Woman Says She Could No Longer
Endure Suffering Over Loss of Child Which Died Here

After a carefully laid plan made out over a month ago, Mrs. Wenzel Breidel, Jr., yesterday morning grasped her 4-year-old son, Frank, and plunged into a cistern at the home of her husband, Wenzel Breidel, on the North Chipmunk Coulee road. Despondent over the loss of her 9-year-old son Alfred, who died at the St. Francis hospital last month, she was driven to the act. She states that before writing the letter she asked her 4-year-old son Frank if he wanted to go with his brother Alfred or go with his father. The lad answered in favor of the former and the plan was completed. The dead were not discovered until yesterday afternoon when Mr. Breidel returned home after being away all morning at the neighboring farm, assisting in the butchering of a number of hogs. He found the house open and no one about. He hastily made a search over the house, but failed to locate anyone, or receive any answer to his calls. After searching the house he went to a neighbors and accompanied by several friends returned to the house and discovered the boards about the cistern broken. On looking into the well he saw the arm of his wife in the milky water and later discovered the child on the bottom of the well. Later going into the house he found the letter which states that

RAILROADS SANDBAG 'PHONE INTERESTS

MADISON, Wis., March 24.—(Special.)—At a conference of 200 representatives of the Bell and Independent Telephone interests with the railroad commission today it developed that for years the railroads have attempted to sandbag the telephone companies to give free phones in railroad offices, and especially in connection with roundhouses where the company made telephone concerns give them free phones in order that they might have connection with their employees.

Former Assemblyman Gaveney of Arcadia explained this system and thought the railroads should be compelled to furnish phones as part of an adequate service to the public.

The peculiar contract of the Duluth Telephone company with the Great Northern road, excluding the use of any other telephone system, was told of and created considerable interest.

WILLIAMS WILL FORCE LEGISLATION

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Minority Leader Williams created a sensation in the house today, announcing he would conduct a filibuster until the republicans gave assurances they would bring in for consideration certain legislation the president recommended.

Among these is the liability act, a bill removing wood pulp from duty, a measure providing publicity of campaign contributions and one limiting the right to grant injunctions in labor disputes.

He said he was determined this will no longer be a "Lie easy and wait for the majority" congress.

Practically all arrangements have been completed for the big Redpath Chautauqua which will be held in this city June 23 to 28, and one of the leading features will be the appearance here of E. W. Hoch, Kansas' reform governor.

The mammoth tent, seating from 2,000 to 3,000 people, will be made of khaki duck and nearly waterproof as possible, and will deflect the glare of the sun. The tent will be new, and the seats will be settees with backs, and not the usual circus seats. There will be 12 concerts, 12 lectures and 6 entertainments, and under the direction of Miss Pearl Head the Seton Indian drill work for the boys and girls, which will be a feature of the performances each day. Three attractions will be held daily, a lecture and drill in the morning, a short entertainment and lecture in the afternoon, and an hour's entertainment and lecture at night. The principal lectures will be at night and in the afternoon.

FAIR DIRECTORS MAKE LAST CALL FOR DONATIONS

At a special meeting of the directors of the Interstate Fair association last night it was decided to hold the subscription list open until Saturday evening when another and final meeting will be held. Secretary Van Auken today said if the business men felt the fair was of enough importance to La Crosse to subscribe the remaining $500 between now and Saturday, the fair would be held, and dates announced, but that if the money was not forthcoming it would be called off.

Mr. Van Auken expects that the $500 will be subscribed without difficulty, as $2,000 of the required $2,500 has already been guaranteed.

POLICE GET NO TRACE OF THIEVES

Chief of Police Webber has returned from St. Paul, where he failed to get any trace of the shoplifters who "worked" La Crosse merchants Saturday afternoon. It is said at the police station that all of the goods, including the silk, has been recovered with the exception of one piece of silk. The goods were recovered. It is understood, at the express office.

LAFOLLETTE RESUMES ALDRICH ATTACK

CHICAGO, March 24.—The zealous activity of reformers who are thought to have been "worked" by Jacob Maroonney for money has led to an investigation by the grand jury. Rev. M. C. Hartzell, son of Bishop Hartzell, has been very energetic in a campaign against the mayor and other city officials. He claimed that they were grafters and sought to secure evidence against them. He took into his employ Jacob Maroonney, who claimed to have evidence against the mayor. Maroonney and his men secured considerable money from Hartzell and Hartzell, thinking the evidence authentic, gave out slanderous statements against the mayor. The check shown above was one of the documents. It now turns out that the bogus check was based upon a $2 check which Mayor Busse had given a respectable west side woman in payment for tickets for a benefit. The grand jury in its investigation yesterday returned indictments against "Jake" Maroonney, James Mullaney, Harry Schindler and Walter Gehrke. They consider the implication of Rev. Hartzell so serious that indictments may be returned against him. Both sides show fight and many complications are expected.

Prisoner Admits He Struck the Horse
but Says He Delivered the Wood Afterward

On complaint of Humane Officer Sol Burdick, William Miller, a driver for S. Boma, on South Third street, was arraigned before Judge Brindley this morning on the charge of killing one of the delivery horses of Mr. Boma.

The affair occurred late yesterday afternoon. Miller was delivering a load of wood in the vicinity of Twenty-second and Cass streets, when one of the horses became stubborn and refused to proceed further. Miller becoming enraged, it is alleged struck the horse several times over the head with a stick of cord wood, which later resulted in the death of the animal.

In the case this morning Miller claimed that he whipped the horse several times, but delivered the wood before the horse dropped dead.

In giving the sentence Judge Brindley passed a sentence of 20 days in the county jail with the alternative of $20 and costs.

MADISON, Wis., March 24.—(Special.)—Southern Wisconsin physicians are puzzled over the case of Clarence Westad, an 11-year-old inmate of the orphan asylum at Stoughton, near here, who has been afflicted with diphtheria for a year and four months and who has grown fat on the disease which is so often fatal.

The boy has been isolated and many noted doctors have watched the case, but it foils all efforts at cure.

His throat is a veritable incubator for diphtheria germs and temperature and toxin tests show up just as badly now as they did at first.

"SUSPECTS" DENY IDENTITY

A Certain Thomson Has a Hard Time With Passports and Rumors Are Still Rife Today

NEW YORK, March 24.—A message from Montreal says: "Thomson De Frain" negotiated an advance on a letter of credit under the name of "Sagan." The immigration authorities are quoted as claiming the passport was named for "Prince De Sagan." Positive identification, however, is not made.

Mme. Gould is going to the Virginia Hot Springs tonight and it is understood Helen Gould will accompany her. It is reported the prince will board a train for Philadelphia, where it is supposed he will go under the name of "Bertrand De Frain, Paris."

Suspect at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 24.—A man believed to be Prince Helie De Sagan came to Philadelphia from New York yesterday, registering at a hotel as Bertrand Dufresne and giving his address as Paris. Persons who had seen the prince in London and Paris saw the stranger about the hotel and identified him positively as Count Castellane's cousin and the reported fiance of Mme. Gould.

Despite this the stranger stubbornly persisted in denying he was other than a French merchant in America on a business trip. He said he was not Prince Helie De Sagan, but that he had seen both the prince and his father.

When shown De Sagan's picture the stranger said:

"That is too young. The prince is nearly 50 and his father 70."

"You are gray yourself," it was remarked.

"O, yes, quite a bit," was the reply.

Upon being shown a photograph of Mme. Anna Gould, the supposed prince said:

"Too much hair, not enough face."

In this remark he was referring to the bounteous coiffure that billowed down to madame's brow in the picture.

New York May Have Him

NEW YORK, March 24.—Whether or not New York has been entertaining unawares a sighing lover in the person of Prince Helie de Sagan, developments made it hard to determine.

If the W. H. Thomson, who registered on Sunday at a hotel in West Twenty-eighth street, a man of the same height and weight, with a mustache tinged with gray and a slight, if not insignificant, imperial pendant from the lower lip is the prince, it is up to him to prove it. If the story that is current is true, Thomson, who did not register at the hotel as coming from anywhere, is the bearer of papers made out to the prince and has $20,000 in his possession.

"We, the milk dealers and producers of this city of La Crosse here assembled, are heartily in favor of such an ordinance by the city of La Crosse as will insure pure milk to the consumers of said city," was the resolution which was unanimously adopted by the forty milk-producers and deliverymen who met at the board of trade offices last evening, and which will be used as a foundation for the ordinance which is to be drawn up by City Attorney John F. Doherty and a committee of five for submission at the next meeting of the common council. The committee of five is composed of Baker, Pammel, Linse, Schafer and Beutler.

Those Present.

Those who attended the meeting from the North and South Sides and from the surrounding vicinity signed in the following order: Messrs. Louis Casperson, Ole Knudsen, Louis Koch, C. H. Baker, George E. Malrick, Edward Almos, Joseph Linsinger, Frank Keppel, Andrew Mashek, Joseph Beutler, Charlie Manske, Ole Larson, Anton Keppel, Kaspar Zweifel, Herman Pammel, Charles Haas, Fred Haas, Seiler Bros. and G. D. Shiffer. These are all the milkmen who signed and there were twice that many present, some having neglected to sign.

Reason for Meeting.

"The idea of this meeting was to get your views," said Mr. Beutler, "as to the sale of milk, not only to satisfy the public, but to guard against the harm and disease which may come from milk. It is to be discussed as a matter of science and as a matter of business and we believe that we could get more practical information from you. You are to be the prime movers in this movement. This is a public office and we want you all to talk and give your views as to what you think about the matter and to consider and formulate some plan to advance your interests in the milk business. We have Dr. Evans who will give us the undisputed facts in regard to the matter, Dr. Roome who has had much practical experience in stock will give us the cost and time it will take to have a test made if we so decide and the city attorney will address us in regard to the legal points. We are not to organize, but we must have a temporary chairman to conduct this meeting."

Mr. Linse.

Mr. Linse was the first speaker and said that he had suggested to Mr. Beutler to call a meeting to find what was necessary to satisfy the people.

"The state asks three per cent but four per cent is the kind of milk asked for. We must have healthy cows kept in clean quarters. Healthy cows is the principal question which we have to deal with. We must get together and agree that every cow which furnishes the city milk should be tested for tuberculosis. We want to sell our milk and keep our people in good faith. If any of us buy our milk from outside we should insist that their cows be tested also."

Ventilate Barn.

Ventilate your barn. It is impossible to get good milk unless you do. They say the animal odor in milk is disagreeable. Milk has no animal odor. It is the foul air which causes this. Milk passes through the lungs in its process of making. Two years ago they tried the process of aeration as a remedy for the animal odor. They would pour the milk from one can into the other. This does no good. I can bottle them both and put them on ice and in a few hours you could not tell the difference between the two kinds of milk. Ventilate your barn is the only way to do it and it is cheap."

Then I would recommend that you whitewash your barn. You need not have an expensive barn. A small barn, clean, nice and in a sanitary condition is all that is necessary, and I advise my brother milk dealers to assist and make the public know that we are giving them pure milk."

The chairman then said that Inspector Larson when here remarked

VAN HISE FAVORS HARVARD PLAN

MADISON, Wis., March 24.—President Charles R. Van Hise of Wisconsin yesterday expressed himself as being entirely in accord with the Harvard faculty in its recommendation to the Harvard athletic committee to reduce the number of inter-collegiate contests. President Van Hise says the faculty of the university of Wisconsin is unanimously in favor of this option.

The number of baseball games which have been played by eastern colleges or universities is about double that of the universities of Wisconsin, said Van Hise. "According to the papers Harvard is scheduled to play twenty-seven baseball games, and not more than a year ago their football schedule called for ten games. The faculty of Wisconsin university favor the moderate schedule and are wholly in accord with the action taken by the Harvard faculty."

RACES DRAW SPORT ELEMENT

Few of the Horses Entered, Were There to Start and Some Events Failed to Fill

MILWAUKEE, March 24.—John Kern's Envoy won the principal event in the Milwaukee Speedway club's matinee on Humboldt avenue yesterday, defeating Frank Lango's Will Stack in straight heats. The race, however, was well contested in every heat.

Only a few of the horses entered were on the speedway to start and as a result classes 3 and 4 failed to fill. In spite of the small number of starters, however, there were some interesting races. Chromium won the class 2 event, W. L. finished first in class 6 and Highwood, Jr., captured the colt race.

Easter Wing and The Devil, owned by R. C. Wrege, and Franklin D., owned by Frank Dare, have been sent to J. B. Chandler at Berlin, Wis., for training. The Devil and Franklin D. are promising colts and under Chandler's careful supervision it is thought that they will develop into credible performers. The summary of yesterday's races:

SKI RIDERS SET NEW RECORDS

DULUTH, Minn., March 24.—The American ski record was beaten by two riders and tied by a third at the tournament Sunday afternoon at Chester Creek hill. John Evenson of Duluth, who jumped 124 feet at the Ishpeming tournament, broke that record three times. His longest standing jump was 131 feet, a new American record. Ole Fierling of Duluth also jumped 128 feet. August Nordby of Stoughton, Wis. jumped 124 feet.

BIG ARMY AND NAVY GAME

Annual Clash of These Big Institutions Will Be Held in the Old Place According to Plans

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 24.—Although definite arrangements have not been concluded, it is practically certain that the Army and Navy football teams will play their annual game on Franklin field this fall as usual. As soon as the last game was played the Pennsylvania authorities informed the two academies that it would be impossible to construct another temporary wooden stand in front of the gymnasium as heretofore. In the correspondence which followed the university committee presented a counterplan which will give the two academies even more seats than they had with the gymnasium stand.

The scheme suggested is to enclose the field within the amphitheater, with low movable stands capable of seating some 6,000 persons. This is made possible on Franklin field because the permanent stands are built on an unusually high foundation. They will permit the construction of several tiers of seats around the gridiron which will not interfere in any way with the sight of the spectators in the permanent stands. In addition those occupying those temporary seats will secure a much better view of the game than was possible from the stand in front of the gymnasium, because all the spectators were behind the goal posts.

The temporary seats will be so constructed that they will fit together by some sort of a locking device and can be kept in readiness at all times. Not only will they be necessary for the Army-Navy game every year, but if the interest in the Cornell-Pennsylvania game continues as a year ago some of them will be necessary for it also.

EDWARD GEERS IS STILL ACTIVE MAN

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 21.—Edward F. Geers, dean of the light harness horse fraternity, has 40 head under his charge at the famous Two-Minute track, including 10 green ones, from which he admits that something unusual may be expected. Most famous among the string is Baron Grattan. Trivial, a 5-year-old, by Boreal, is the pick of the green ones. Huntsman, son of the great Onward Silver, is another choice bit of horseflesh in the hands of the master reinsman.

Although at the age when most men consider retiring from active work, Edward F. Geers, dean of the light harness fraternity, shows no sign of giving up his career in which he has long been a leading light. Geers is the last of the great drivers whose names are household words—Marvin is dead, and Dobie, Turner and Bowen have retired—but Geers continues to pilot fleet trotters and pacers as in the days when he was the idol of Village Farm.

stage where they expect him to make at least a triple every time he comes to bat and a double play, at least, every time he gets his hands on the ball.

Wagner himself, and some of his teammates have been afraid during the last two years, that almost any day he would be roasted so hard he would forget himself and climb into the grand stand to punish some of the leading gamblers, thereby disgracing both himself and the game. For years at the local park a section of the stand has been appropriated to gamblers, who take wagers not only on the publicly announced odds but make and accept bets on almost every play. The heaviest wagers usually are made on Wagner's work at bat.

The Prohibition Theory on Beers

Has been weighed in the balance and found wanting. The great scientists of all Nations after careful analysis declare that beer brewed from pure barley malt and hops contains only about 3 1/4 per cent of alcohol or just enough to mildly stimulate the body and promote healthy digestion. Dr. Bauer, the German analyst (whose fame is international) says "Beer has a number of pleasant and valuable qualities. No other beverage contains such a combination of useful properties. The water of it quenches the thirst, the carbonic acid refreshes, the extracts are nutritious, the alcohol furthers digestion, the mineral salts build up the bones and extracts of hops act as a tonic."

Ketchel will whip two or three middleweights and then will claim the title on the ground that Papke refuses to fight. Then he will go after light heavyweights, like Jim Flynn, and later may fight with Tommy Burns.

Two hundred San Francisco fans availed themselves of the first opportunity to see "Pakey" McFarland box with Pat Kenneally at Colma today. Never has a fight met with a more cordial reception than the Chicago lightweight in the three rounds he worked.

When a girl will show a lot of enthusiasm for a man he isn't the one.

ILLITERACY IN UNITED STATES.

(Milwaukee Sentinel.)

Some interesting data in regard to illiteracy in the United States is presented by the American Journal of Education, and when the figures are considered in comparison with those of European countries they give little cause for satisfaction. This journal finds that in this country about one person in nine above 10 years of age
is unable to write in any language.
This is the test of illiteracy applied in United States census enumerations, and in 1900 there were 107 persons in every 1,000 found deficient under this test.

This showing was vastly better than that of former years, the proportion of illiteracy having gradually declined from 200 in each 1,000 of population in 1870. In view of the fact that in England, Scotland and Holland but one person in 40 over 10 years old is unable to write, in Switzerland 1 in 66, in Denmark 1
in 500, and in Sweden and Norway 1
in 1,250, it would seem that a large work still lies before the educational system of this country before the average of learning is brought up to the standard of leading European countries.

These statistics seem to furnish an effective refutation to the old time
"know nothing" ideas which are still more or less prevalent among certain classes. Notwithstanding the recent heavy tide of immigration
from southern and eastern Europe,
in which illiteracy unquestionably runs high, there are many states, including New York, which contain more illiterates born of native parents than those of foreign parentage.
Nor do the small cities and country districts make a better showing than the large cities, where the foreign born are largely congregated.

In justice to the country at large,
however, it should be said that in the table giving the ratio of illiteracy by states, most of those showing more than 100 illiterates in every thousand are in the south, Louisiana with 385 having the largest number.
Nevada, largely undeveloped in every respect pertaining to good government, is the only northern state in this class, having 123 in every 1,000, except the border states of Maryland, West Virginia and Delaware, respectively with 111, 114 and 120. In these the negro population is large.

It is noteworthy that in all states
before Maryland in the list compulsory school laws have been passed,
though they are not uniformly enforced. Iowa and Nebraska make the best showing in the country with 23
illiterates in each 1,000 of population, and Wisconsin ranks fifteenth.
The ratio of its illiteracy, however,
which is 47 in the 1,000, is not markedly greater than that of most of the states preceding it and it would seem to be quite apparent that the better showing of this group is due to two causes: The more rigid enforcement of the school attendance laws and the superior quality of its immigration.

The latter proposition is perfectly clear from the fact that in Germany, from which the greatest number of the foreign born of Wisconsin's population came, there is practically no
illiteracy whatever, and the Scandinavian countries, which have fur-

PRESCRIPTION PURIFIES BLOOD

Neutralizes Poisonous Acids and Stops Rheumatic Pains and Catarrh.

The following prescription is very simple, but is the most effective obtainable for neutralizing acid poisons
in the blood and relieving rheumatism and all its kindred ailments; it will also quickly restore the system to a healthy condition. Any one can prepare this simple mixture. The ingredients can be obtained at any well stocked drug store:

"One ounce Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla; one ounce Toris Root Compound; half pint high grade whisky. Mix and use a tablespoonful before each meal and at bed time.
The bottle must be well shaken each time."

The good effect of this treatment is said to become apparent after the first few doses and that it is a remarkable system builder and renovator.

MONKEYING WITH BUZZ SAW

"The Argentine republic is making a noise like trouble for itself," says the Pioneer Press. "It is threatening to twist the British lion's tail over the possession of the Falkland islands. It is said that the inspiration is not so much a conviction that Argentina has any color of title to the islands as a general spirit of hostility to the Latin element to everything Anglo-Saxon, including ourselves. There have been vague rumors for some time of Argentine designs on the Falkland islands, but they never have been taken seriously until they recently were brought to notice officially. The minister of foreign affairs at Buenos Ayres addressed a communication to the power in international postal union concerning the new international postal convention at Rome. He says 'the Argentine republic considers the Falkland archipelago as belonging to itself and cannot accept the convention without protesting against the inclusion of the Falklands among the British colonies.'"

"The Falkland islands are about 250 miles east of the nearest point to the mainland of South America.
Argentina makes the claim that the islands are a part of Patagonia, although the reason for the claim is not apparent. There are 200 islands in the group having a total area of less than 8,000 square miles. So far as is known they have no mineral wealth and are valuable to England chiefly as a coaling station and for their strategic position, commanding as they do the Magellan straits.
The islands have been governed by a British governor since 1822, and while not rich have been self-sufficient. It is not apparent why Argentina wants the archipelago, but it does not require great presence to see the trouble she will have in getting it. While Argentina is wide awake and vigorous and the Falklands may be of little account, our South American friends must not expect that England will vacate just because it is suggested to her. Argentina's hint probably will receive about the same consideration as would instructions from Castro to vacate Jamaica."

SPOTLIGHTS

NEAR DATES AT THE LA CROSSE THEATRE

The remainder of the month of March and the greater part of April is filled to overflowing with some of the best theatrical attractions that are before the public. Manager Gage has been booking star features for the latter part of the season, and to the pleasure of hearing real artists
in drama, will be added the delight of musical comedy, interspersed with thrilling western plays, dialect plays
—in fact a feast of good things to suit every taste and inclination. Tonight we have dear old Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch, with her geographical children and all the rest of it, which play has such a hold on all who have read Alice Hegan's charming story. Blanche Chapman plays the title role and is assisted by Charles Carter as Mr. Stubbins, Phyllis Sherwood as Lovey Mary,
and Helen Lowell in her original creation of Miss Hazy. Miss Chapman has made the total receipts up to the $20,000 mark in two weeks.
"Kerry Gow," in which Bernard Dal-ly is starring, is an Irish play, formerly owned by Joseph Murphy, and in which the latter actor won much of his renown. Mr. Dally was Mr.
Murphy's understudy, and in addition to his histrionic ability, is a singer with a wonderful tenor voice.
This delightful attraction will be here for two matinees and two evenings, March 30 and 31. A wonderfully realistic horse shoe scene is shown in one of the acts. The first attraction in April, Thursday, the second, will be Miss Viola Allen in "Irene Wycherly," a stellar event of extreme interest. Miss Allen is said to have a part which suits wonderfully well her rather intellectual style of acting. This is the play in which Miss Lena Ashwell, the English actress, made so deep an impression, and is described as a temperamental drama. It is given a most convincing representation by Miss Allen and her company.

On the fourth of April (Saturday)
come Kecey and Shannon in "The Walls of Jericho," the society play in which we saw Mr. James K. Hackett, last year. This fascinating drama of London life will be equally attractive now that these two noteworthy players have deemed it the best vehicle in which to exploit their talents. Herbert Kecey and Effie Shannon who in private life are Mr.
and Mrs. Herbert Lamb, have been together in a professional capacity for eleven years, and no other members of the theatrical profession, enjoy higher confidence or are entitled to greater respect for the artistic value of their dramatic offerings than are Mr. Kecey and Miss Shannon.

On Wednesday, April 8, comes Miss Eleanor Robson in "Nurse Marjorie," another stellar attraction which is causing much interest and favorable comment in Chicago theatrical circles. This is another of Israel Zangwill's plays, "Merely Marjorie" being the former one, in which Miss Robson endeavored herself to the hearts of play goers in England and America. The story of "Nurse Marjorie" is full of interest, concerning a young woman who in the interest of humanity gives herself to be a hospital nurse. She is assigned to the care of one John Danbury, M. P., who shrinks from her, during the period that his eyes are bandaged, for he associates her in his mind with the nurse whom he last saw before the other was administered, and who was very ugly. Of course, afterwards he falls violently in love with her, and finds afterwards he has worked to overcome his antipathy
to Marjorie's low birth, and a supposed Whitechapel mother, who she really is, and all ends happily. E.
M. Holland is an important member of the cast.

Ben Hendricks in the immortal
and confiding character part of "Yon-Yonson" will be the attraction on Sunday, April 5. Two breezy western plays, "The Cow Puncher" and Lillian Mortimer in "Bunco in Arizona" with real bronchos, and the spirit of the plains in every line will be the offerings for Saturday and Sunday, April 11 and 12.

Blanche Walsh in "The Kreutzer Sonata," who comes on Monday, April 13, is an attraction that few will likely want to miss. For the benefit of the younger generation, and for the edification of some of the older ones perhaps, "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will play two performances on Saturday, April 18. Then on Monday, the 20, comes "The Time,
the Place and the Girl" on its long delayed trip, and this show will doubtless be welcomed heartily, full
as it is of popular songs, pretty girls and clean, wholesome comedy. James Barrie's fairy play, "Peter Pan," in which Maude Adams played so long and won such distinguished triumphs comes on Wednesday, the 22, and although Maude Adams will not come to La Crosse, the title role will be in capable hands, for Miss Vivian Martin, a Michigan girl who plays it, is said to have exceptional histrionic
ability as well as childish beauty.

Later on in the season, nearly at the close, comes Mrs. Leslie Carter in "Du Barry," this event will be looked forward to with much pleasure, although one could wish that Mrs. Carter was coming in a less gloomy play. After all it is her superb art that is uppermost, and I suppose we should be glad that she is coming at all. With so goodly an array of attractions, the playgoers should be more than satisfied, and thankful to the powers that be for so providing them. B. K.

"MRS. WIGGS OF THE CABBAGE PATCH" TONIGHT

Tonight will mark the coming of the sunny-tempered philosophy,
"Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch,"
to the La Crosse theatre. The fame of the books from which the dramatization was made and the artistic depiction of the various roles of the carefully selected company picked by Liebier & Co. have made this play
the most popular of all book dramas

throughout the entire country. The delightfully human creations of Mrs.
Rice have been vitalized with characterizations that will live long in the annals of stage successes. The character of Mrs. Wiggs with its unconscious humor, its steady pathos,
and warm, pulsating human naturalness is a revelation in American stage literature. During the entire play laughter comes in quick succession, and a most satisfactory feeling takes possession of one after witnessing the performance and it makes one realize that this world of ours is not entirely devoid of the saving grace of brotherly feeling and hope. The eccentric character of Miss Hazy is one of the most unique of modern stage history. The character of Mr. Stubbins, who woos and wins Miss Hazy, cuts pie, falls from grace and disappears from the Patch
in a freight car is a well-spring of hearty laughter, and the mirth-making possibilities of the role are unlimited. Lovey Mary is a character with a strong individuality and a blending of pathos and humor that make laughter and tears ripple like sunshine and shadows over a wheat field. The smaller parts are exceedingly well taken care of making
"Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch"
one of the plays—great from the standpoint of natural humor and flawless acting—that everybody should see. As a dramatic offering it is proof if further evidence were wanting, that there are "as good fish in the sea of humanity as ever were caught." It makes vivid the book conception of the Cabbage Patch people; brings one nearer the sources of smiles and tears, and gives an insight into the tenderness, the sacrifices, the delights and pains in the lives of the humble.

"Kerry Gow."

The Peterborough Daily Evening
Review, Peterborough, Ont., Canada,
September 7, 1907, says:
"The Kerry Gow," is old, but ever
new. The sweet story of Irish love never becomes stale, especially to those who claim kinship with the green little isle of the ocean. The presentation of this old favorite at the Grand Opera house last night was the third time that it has been seen in Peterborough within a year,
but despite this, the spacious play house was nearly filled, and the play was enjoyed by everyone."

Mr. Bernard Dally will offer "Kerry Gow" on Saturday and Sunday at the La Crosse theatre.

AT THE BIJOU.

A varied and interesting program
is presented this week at the Bijou,
for the pleasure of its many patrons.
Will and May Reno in their comedy
sketch, "The Rub and the Show Girl," have a fairly interesting turn that works up better as it gets toward the close. Some of Mr. Reno's jokes are old and stale—indeed, he is not the only offender, for I believe this is the fifth consecutive week we have been told about the "horse that dropped dead and never did so before." Miss Reno's singing is not so pleasing as it might be, for she forces
her voice—her stage appearance is youthful and pleasing, however,
and Mr. Reno's contortionist work and high kicking is good.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Murry Smith in a high class comedy sketch, "His Marriage a Failure," probably strike a sympathetic chord in a good many breasts in the audience before the close of their stunt. Matrimonial troubles, like the poor, are always with us on the stage of course—
and this sort of sketch seems to be extremely popular. This particular one takes a sentimental turn, that is quite effective. Mr. Smith's singing is quite a feature of the act, he being possessed of a pleasing tenor voice
and his Irish song makes quite a hit.
The Cremona Bros. in their "Burlesque Illusion" are really funny and are highly enjoyed every minute by the audience.

It is to be hoped that too many of the magic tricks are not given away;
at the same time it is somewhat of a satisfaction to see them so easily explained and causes no end of amusement.

The impersonations of the French Professor of Magic and the doll of an assistant are splendid.

It was a disappointment to the audience yesterday that Prof. Hershal and his wonderful troupe of trained "Humpty Dumpty Dogs" failed to arrive. They are said to be one of the finest aggregation of trained animals on the road, and do wonderful stunts. However, they are here today and for the remainder of the week.

Milton Kerr pleases as usual with his excellent singing and the song
this week is entitled "Comrade Mine."

The moving picture, a thrilling story of the Moroccan war, is much appreciated, and the happy climax meets with applause.

The usual excellent music adds much to the attractiveness of the program. B. K.

AT THE LYRIC.

A whole program of moving pictures, the latest films and the most interesting subjects is what the Lyric theatre presents again this week.
The feature picture is one that never fails to appeal to a crowd—either on or off the canvas—that of an exciting fire run. Beginning with the turning in of the fire alarm, the hook and ladder, engines and chemicals leaving the station, the arrival at the fire and the realistic work of the firemen taken from life, there is not a dull moment in the entire picture.
This is only one of the many fascinating pictures that are shown—program lasting over an hour and well worth the time and money spent.

"Yes, I was in hopes he would

THE PAUPER OF PARK LANE

By William
Le Queux

"I believe so."

"Then he may have been in his master's secret—most probably was.
When a master suddenly flies he generally confides in his man. I've known that in many instances. What nationality was this Petrovitch?"

"Servian."

"Oh, we don't get many of those people in London. They come from the East somewhere, don't they—a half-civilized lot?"

"Doctor Petrovitch is perfectly civilized, and a highly cultured man," Max responded. "He is a statesman and a diplomat."

"What! Is he the Minister of Servia?"

"He was—in Berlin, Constantinople, and other places."

"Then there may be something political behind it," the officer suggested, beaming as though some great flash of wisdom had come to him.

"If so, it doesn't concern us, England's a free country to all the scum of Europe. This doctor may be flying from some enemy. Russian refugees often do. I've heard some tales about them, more strange than what them writers put in sixpenny books."

"Yes," remarked Barclay. "I expect you've had a pretty big experience of foreigners down in Whitechapel."

"And at Vine Street, too, sir," was the man's reply, as he leaned against the edge of his high desk, over which the flaring gas jet gleamed. "Nineteen years in the London police gives one an intimate acquaintance with the underside of the world. Your story tonight is a queer one. Would you like me to send a man round to the house with you in order to give it a look over?"

Max reflected in an instant that if that were done the woman's dress
would be discovered.

"Well—no," he replied. "At present I think it would be scarcely worth while. I think I know where I shall find the Doctor in the morning. Besides, a friend of mine is engaged to his daughter, so he'll be certain to know their whereabouts."

"Very well—as you wish," "But,"
he said, "if you can't find where they're all disappeared to give us a call again, and we'll try to assist you to the best of our ability."

Max thanked him. A ragged pickpocket, held by two constables, was at that moment brought in and placed in the railed dock, making loud
protests of "I'm quite innocent, guv'- nor. It wasn't me at all. I was only a-lookin' out!"

So Barclay, seeing that the inspector would be occupied in taking the charge, thanked him and left.

Outside, he reflected whether he should go direct to Charlie's chambers in Jermyn Street. His first impulse was to do so, but somehow he viewed Rolfe with suspicion. If his friend had not seen him—and he believed he had not—then for the present it was best that he should hold his secret.

Perhaps the Doctor had sent a telegram to his own chambers. He would surely never leave London without sending him word. Therefore Max hailed a passing cab and drove to Dover Street.

His chambers, on the first floor,
were cosy and well furnished, betraying a taste in antique of the Louis
XIV. period. Odd articles of furniture he had picked up in out-of-the-way places, while several of the pictures were family portraits brought from Kilmarnock Castle.

The red-carpeted sitting-room,
with its big inlaid writing-table,
bought from an old chateau on the Loire, its old French chairs and modern book-case, was lit only by the green-shaded reading lamp; beneath which were some letters where his man had placed them.

On a small table at the side was a decanter of whisky, a syphon,
glasses, and cigars, and beside them
his letters. Eagerly he turned them over for a telegram, but there was none. Neither was there a letter from the Doctor. On the writing-table stood the telephone instrument.
It might have been rung while his man Gustave had been absent. That evening he had sent him on a message down to Croydon, and he had not yet returned.

He pushed his opera-hat to the back of his head, and stood puzzled
as to how he should act. Green had told him that his master had left for the Continent, and yet had he not with his own eyes seen him fly from that house in Cornwell Road?

Yes; there was a mystery—a deep, inexplicable mystery. There was not a doubt of it!

CHAPTER VI.

Mentions a Curious Confession.
When about ten o'clock next morning Mr. Warner, buyer of the costumes at Cunningham's noticed the tall, athletic figure of the young man in brown tweeds known as Mr. Evans of Dover Street advance across the drab carpet with which the "department" was covered, he smiled
within himself.

The "young ladies" of Cunning-
ton's were not allowed any firtations. It was "the sack" at a moment's notice for any girl being found flirting either with one of the male assistants or with an outsider,
though he be a good customer. Cun-
nington's hundred and one rules,
with fines ranging from threepence
to half-a-crown, were stringent ones.
Mr. Cunningham himself, a short,
black-headed man, of keen business instinct, was a kindly master but in such a huge establishment with its hundreds of employees, rules must of necessity be adhered to. Nevertheless, the buyers or headmen of the various departments each controlled their own assistants, and some being more lenient than others towards the girls, rules were very often broken.
Cunnington's was, therefore, known

We eat to live; to live well
means to eat well—that means
MARVEL FLOUR AL-WAYS. Order a sack today

to be one of the most comfortable
"cribs" in the trade. Assistants who came up to London in search of a billet always went to see Mr. Cun-nington, and happy he or she who obtained a personal introduction to him. He had earned his success by dint of hard work. Originally an assistant himself in a Birmingham shop, he had gone into business for himself in Oxford Street, in one small establishment, and had, by fair dealing and giving good value,
prospered, until great rows of windows testified to the fortune he had amassed.

Unlike most employers in the drapery trade, he was generous to a degree, and he appreciated devoted service. In his great shops he had many old hands. Some, indeed, had been with him ever since his first beginning. Those were his trusted lieutenants, of whom "Warner of the Costumes" was one.

What Warner said was never queried, and, being a kindly man,
the girls in his department did pretend much as they liked.

Max Barclay, or Mr. Evans as he had several times given his name,
had run the gamut of the shop-
walkers of the outer shops, and penetrated anxiously to the costumes. At that hour there were no customers.
Before eleven there is but little shopping in Oxford Street. Buyers then see travelers, who come in their Broughams, and assistants re-arrange and display their stocks.

PETTY BUSINESS JEALOUSY STOPS NORTH SIDE FUNERAL

CLARK AND CLARK WITHDRAW HEARSE

LEAVE CORPSE IN ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

CONFUSION FOLLOWS ACTION

Because Firm Did Not Consider it Got "Fair Deal" Body Was Left During Funeral Rites.

The hard feeling that has existed between the local liverymen in La Crosse reached its "white heat" yesterday when the firm of Clark & Clark refused to allow their hearse to be used in taking the body of Theodore Ritter from the St. John's Catholic church on the North side to the Catholic cemetery.

The funeral which was that of the elder Theodore Ritter, was delayed for some time by the affair and things were thrown into confusion. Arrangements had been made by the family of Mr. Ritter to have the carriage necessary come from Hodge & Bradbury. The hearse and wagonette belonging to Hodge & Bradbury, were being used in La Crosse, however, and the hearse of Clark & Clark was ordered. The Clark hearse taking the body from the residence to the church. Here the trouble started, however. The services were about half through when a relative of Ritter was called out and told that he would have to get another hearse. Contention was caused by this turn of affairs, but after some delay a team was dispatched to the North side from the Hodge & Bradbury stables and the hearse belonging to William Duncan, the North side liveryman, was used.

Mourners Keep Seats

At the close of the services the mourners were requested to keep their seats for a few minutes and they were kept waiting for some length of time not knowing the cause of the delay.

"I called up Hodge & Bradbury," said Theodore Ritter, a relative of the deceased, "and ordered seven of their carriages, their hearse and wagonette. They told me that I could get the carriages, but that their hearse was in La Crosse. They told me, however, that they could secure Duncan's for me. I told them to go ahead and get it and considered the deal closed. Upon talking it over with some of the folks, however, we decided to get Clark's hearse as it is supposed to be one of the best in town and I had Mr. Bradbury countermand the order for Duncan's, and called up Clark & Clark. They told me that I could get their hearse all right and wanted to know if the carriages were to be divided among the liverymen. I told them yes and they said that they would have the hearse at the house at the appointed time. The hearse came and everything went smoothly until the services at the church were half through, and I was then informed that they were having some trouble about the carriages. I went out and former Alderman Bert Clark, who was driving the hearse, told me that I would have to get another one to take the body to the cemetery. Of course it delayed the services some, but I hurriedly made arrangements. I think that the action of Clark & Clark was a mighty queer way of getting even on a grievance that did not concern our family."

James M. Bradbury of the firm of Hodge & Bradbury, in an interview corroborated the story of Mr. Ritter. When interviewed today Mr. Bert Clark of the firm of Clark & Clark, in reply to a question as to the reason for pulling off the hearse, said: "I pulled it off because whoever ordered the carriages didn't do the square thing. They ordered all of their carriages from Hodge & Bradbury, and only took our hearse, because the other firm's was out of town. The only carriages they got from other firms were those that couldn't be furnished by Hodge & Bradbury."

Pedestrians Help Gather in the Fractious Coin of the Realm and Knute Tempte Gets It All Back

The old fairy tale about the "streets of London being paved with gold" was modernized yesterday when upper Caledonia street was literally strewn with five, ten and twenty dollar bills. And there was nothing "fishy" about it either.

Knute Tempte, the well known North side groceryman, had just returned from the Exchange State bank on the North side where he had drawn a thousand dollars. He was paid in bills of the above stated denomination. When he reached the corner of Clinton and Caledonia street an exceptionally strong gust of wind blew the whole package out of his hand and scattered them down the street. The band around the packet was broken and the bills were scattered in all directions.

Passers who happened to be in the street, were amazed to see the "long green" come rolling down the street, despite the fact that spring is here, but soon recovered their equilibrium and made a dash for the "coin."

They soon had it gathered in and Mr. Tempte succeeded in recovering the whole amount.

RUG FACTORY AN IMPORTANT ONE

Among the other factories of which the North Side boasts is the rug factory on Mill street, owned by E. E. Johnson. The factory is perhaps the only one of its kind in this section of the country and is one of the most modern. Numerous North Side people have visited the plant and watched the process by which old carpets are transformed into new rugs that the average person, not up in the carpet business would say were Brussels.

The plant has been in operation for some time and was formerly located on the south side.

MILKMEN WANT AN ORDINANCE

that the ventilation of La Crosse barns was very poor.

Milk Shipped In. Mr. Linse said: "It is hard for an inspector to get a proper test. The man who makes the test can be mistaken. Some of the milk tested was 5 per cent. There is no herd that will test 5 per cent, and 7 per cent is not healthy. The average is 4 per cent. An injustice may be done the milk dealer. The intention of the milk dealer is to get good milk and when he gets it from someone outside the city from whom he is positive he was getting good milk it is hard for him to pay a fine. He meant to buy good milk. In large cities much milk is shipped in. We are growing and more milk will be gradually shipped in here. There ought to be some way provided to guard against such things."

Joseph Beutler. Mr. Beutler said that cream from the same can had tested both 18 and 15 per cent. Mr. Linse said that he had a Babcock tester and tests his milk every morning and advised the others present to get one. He said he would be willing to show them how to use it. "If I buy milk for 20 per cent and I find that the man who sold it gave only 15 per cent I would sue him for $1,000 and I would go for him hard as I would not only do it for getting less than I bought, but for ruining my character in business. Mr. Linse said, however, that the separator was a queer article and could be wrongly adjusted so that the amount of butter fat would not be what the producer meant it to be.

Mr. Beutler gave an example of the mistakes which an inspector could make. "My cream here tested 18 at the creamery, but at West Salem it tested 23 per cent. Manske handles the same cream and he paid a fine. I gave Phelps on Fifth street some of the same cream and his only tested 13.1, and he was fined so the same cream from the same person out of the same can tested 23, 18, 14.75 and 43.1.

Too Near the Pump. Mr. Linse said the state asks three per cent. "It is harder to get proper cream than milk. Every milkman wants to furnish good milk. It should test between 3 1/2 and 4 per cent. When it tests below 3 then he is getting the test down too fine—too near the pump. I am interested in a city inspector," said Mr. Linse.

Casperson. Mr. Caspenson said that he had been selling milk for fourteen years and never had any trouble. I don't believe in the testing plan we have now. If we have to stand the responsibility we want some protection. Mr. Linse says we should test our own milk. I have a Baraboo tester. If I test my milk and I tell the man I buy it from that it is not good enough I will be put out of business right there, as he would no doubt say get your milk from some one else if mine is not good enough. The milk this year, however, is poorer than it has been as the hay and feed has been poor.

Feed Makes No Difference. "The feed given a cow makes no difference in the amount of butter fat," said Mr. Linse. "Exciting the herd might do it. This has been tried at experiment stations in Wisconsin and Ohio. Butter fat is not fed into the animal, but bred into her. You can increase the quantity

but feed will not increase the quality."

Mr. Dorris. Mr. Dorris asked whether it would make any difference whether he changed feed. "If I feed corn meal and oats and bran and then change to malt so that the cow gives 8 quarts whereas she gave 5 quarts, will the amount of butter fat be the same?" Mr. Linse answered that he believed that it would. "It will be the same per quart, in proportion as before it may drop off in the amount of butter fat when the change is first made, but it will come back. The cow will give so much butter fat and no more or no less. The cow was made to raise a calf besides furnish La Crosse with milk and its quality will be the same."

Mr. Baker said that they should now say whether they wanted an inspector, that he was sure that they did. "We want to tell the public we have got good healthy milk without pasteurization."

Mr. Dorris wanted to know why all this was now to be done so "suddenly," when everything to him had seemed alright for years.

Dr. Evans then spoke.

"I have been interested for a number of years in all questions of sanitation, not only for milk, but for the uplifting of the city. This is the most hopeful meeting that I have ever seen in this city called for the discussion of mutual ends. It is not only hopeful here but everywhere, among farmers. You could get no such number of doctors, business men or others to leave their business and meet as here this evening. The 700 farmers who studied the short course at Madison to improve their condition did what no other business men in the state would have done. The man who goes to sleep now will wake up to find that he is the Rip Van Winkle of the past. Every man who sells milk in La Crosse ignorantly, sells it dishonestly. We must wake up and get to the question. Nothing pays like science. A young man leaving the agricultural school, said the dean to me, went home to find his father bankrupt and that he wanted to sell the farm. He said no and took the farm and in three years he was worth $30,000. The land was no different but he had been educated. You must keep thinking and look for your chances and win. Milk may be considered as a food and as a carrier of disease. No other food is used more widely than milk. We must have pure milk. The man who milks his cows in the same clothes in which he cleaned and fed his cows will not succeed like the man who puts on a white duck coat and washes his hands before milking his cow. The sanitary milkman has been found to have 2,000 bacteria in his milk, while the unsanitary has 17,000.

"The doctors are interested in milk as a carrier of disease. It has been found that it readily carries tubercular germs. It is not a new subject. Science has been drumming it in the ears of the people for the past 20 years. Many young people die from it. Many adult people die from the effect of infection while young. Their strength may hold it off. It is no wonder if a man is not a doctor and has six children that he should be interested in knowing whether his milk had been tested or not. The cow may appear well. Butter is also affected. Tuberculosis has been found infallible as a test. We know it can detect and eradicate the disease.

Start Now" He Says

"It pays to commence right now. It is better to have one cow killed now than to have your whole herd become tubercular and all killed later. Milk also conveys germs of diphtheria typhoid fever and scarlet fever. We don't want to be at the mercy of the milk men of our city. The inspector only comes about once

Mr. and Mrs. Punch Robertson are in the city for a few days and will leave the last of the week for New York.

DINNER
Mrs. L. A. Harrison 620 South Seventh street entertained at a pleasant six o'clock dinner last evening. covers being placed for eight. The evening was spent in playing somersets and was very enjoyable. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Steadwell, Mr. Walter Peck of Galesburg, Ill., and Dr. Morikubo.

PLEASANT SURPRISE.
Miss Alada Gilbertson gave a surprise party on Saturday afternoon in honor of her nieces, Esther and Inga Drake. Those present were: Sibyl Drake, Lillian Opsahl, Lilah Vik, Elizabeth Vik, Nellie Larson, Viola Larson, Helga Larson, Mabel Nickelsed, Clara Nickelsed, Helma Gilbertson, Pauline Orvik, Thomas Sinenson, Harold Opsahl and Cora Opsahl. The hostess was assisted in serving by some of the guests and the occasion was much enjoyed.

Issue Certificates
The doctor said that certificates should be issued to the dealer who had clean cows, and well ventilated barns, and who got his milk to the city within at least 24 hours. This would do away with the careless and dirty dealer. "If not for our own sakes, then for our children's," he said.

Ignorant Consumers
Mr. Linse believed that the consumers were ignorant and sometimes did not take care of the milk as they should.

The milk from outside the city is better than inside, where people sell it to their neighbors, and to good people, too, and it's a shame that they are allowed to do it," said one dealer.

Mr. Bentley's View
Said A. A. Bentley: "The prejudice is growing and enterprising dealers must meet it sooner or later. If the prejudice is just then there must be a reason. You get the blame for the little fellow with one cow who has a filthy barn. It is better to take the initiative than to have to follow in the wake of someone else later on. The secretary has been besieged by people who ask why some system of milk delivery and handling is not made. You must now draw a plan to do this yourselves. It is a most vital question. Dr. Roome will tell some of his experiences."

Dr. Roome Talks
"If you are going to have a test made, now is the opportune time as the weather would be very good from now until the middle of May. In Merrill a man had a herd of 39 or 40 Holsteins. Two of his grandchildren died. I tested the cattle and all were so affected that the whole herd had to be killed."

Mr. Linse here added the information that the state pays two-thirds when a cow is killed so that the loss to the owner is not so great and tubercule is free for the asking.

Mr. Doherty Speaks
"Before I knew that this meeting was to be called one of the aldermen and it was submitted to the city introduced a resolution that at the next meeting an ordinance be drawn up in regard to this milk question and it was submitted to the city."

Some man who may have one cow sells to his neighbors and it has been said that these are generally the filthy barns. Because it is easier to milk and I have milked, so I know what I am talking about, they will wet their hands and let the dirt ooze into the pails. Then they will not put enough bedding under the cows. Their flanks and udders become dirty and they don't take time to wash them. A person who would expect milk like that to be clean would have to have a long stretch of conscience.

"One man told me he was careful to wash and steam his cans and then wash them again. He went too far. If he had stopped when he had steamed them it would have been safe. But when he washed them again he might have done it with dirty water and spoiled all his former work. The 'ideal' way is to get milk in a hermetically sealed bottle. It should be cooled quickly and placed in ice till used." Dr. Evans said afterward that although this was the ideal way milk could be sold pure without being placed in bottles.

Mr. Baker here remarked that the dealers no doubt knew this thing was coming and hoped they would now meet it.

Dr. Evans advised that all write for the latest milk compilation No. 41 of the Hygienic Laboratory. The milk dealers should arouse such a sentiment that the council will have to pass the ordinance.

In Milwaukee the sum of $1.00 is paid each July 1 for a license.

Adjourn Subject to Call
Another meeting will be held as soon as the committee and Mr. Doherty have prepared the ordinance, for submission to the council.

Three men were on the committee at first, but on account of various objections this was increased to five. The meeting was most successful.

HARVEY TALKS IN FAVOR OF SCHOOL

Ex-Superintendent L. D. Harvey, of Menomonie, Wis., will appear before the county board of supervisors at the meeting, Thursday, March 26, to present an argument in favor of establishing a county school of agriculture and domestic economy. He will speak at the forenoon session of the board.

"CIVILIZATION" OF WOMAN

At the same time there is another and lower civilization—consisting of the adaptation of oneself to the conditions of the civil life—in which she has not yet graduated. attorney, health and ordinance committees. Of course, it depends on the aldermen but I doubt whether there is any question that it will pass. It is a condition that confronts you. There is no time to stop and theorize too long. We must at the next meeting pass an ordinance which will best meet with the demands of the people. There is a demand and we must have an ordinance along this line. We want to know what the dealers who have the practical experience think. I think that we might have a city inspector. That the milk dealer should have a license and that it should be displayed on his wagon. Before getting the license his cows should be tested for tuberculosis. Where a man buys from others we would have the man from whom he buys comply with the order. We are getting suggestions. I'd rather believe in the test, than if 1,000 milkmen tell me it is not so. I have seen the strongest men die of tuberculosis. Men of strongest physique have gone down inside of one year. We know the germs of the disease are prevalent. You know it injures us. We do want to grasp this problem in a manner that is intelligent and reasonable for the sake of La Crosse."

Weak Heart Action

There are certain nerves that control the action of the heart. When they become weak, the heart action is impaired. Short breath, pain around heart, choking sensation, palpitation, fluttering, feeble or rapid pulse, and other distressing symptoms follow. Dr. Miles Heart Cure is a medicine especially adapted to the needs of these nerves and the muscular structure of the heart itself. It is a strengthening tonic that brings speedy relief. Try it.

"For years I suffered with what I thought was stomach trouble, when the doctors told me I had heart trouble. I had tried many remedies, when the Dr. Miles' Almanac came into my hands, and I concluded to try Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. I have taken three bottles, and now I am not suffering at all. I am cured and this medicine did it. I write this in the hope that it will attract the attention of others who suffer as I did."

IRVING D. BURGH DIES IN MINNEAPOLIS

WELL KNOWN FORMER BUSINESS MAN EXPIRES SUDDENLY

WAS ILL ONLY A FEW DAYS

Was Formerly Manager of Lamb Lumber Interests Here, Later Went to Duluth and Minneapolis

Irving D. Burgh, who for several years was one of the best known business men in La Crosse, died yesterday afternoon at his home in Minneapolis after an illness with typhoid fever, lasting but a few days.

A dispatch was received last evening with the news of his death, and was a shock to Mr. Burgh's many friends in the city, many of whom had the opportunity of meeting him a short time ago, when he stopped at La Crosse for a visit.

Mr. Burgh was 47 years old. He came to La Crosse from Rock Island when the L. Lamb Lumber company purchased the yards of the John Paul Lumber company, and took the management of the company's business here. He was an active member of the La Crosse club and Elks' club, and took a great interest in the work of the board of trade. Mr. Burgh resided with his wife and two sons at 223 North Eighth street.

When the Lamb Lumber company disposed of their local yards, Mr. Burgh removed to Duluth and later went to Minneapolis, where he has since been connected with a cement company.

The funeral arrangements have not been made, but the body will probably be taken to Rock Island for interment.

Body Passes City.

The remains of Irving D. Burgh will pass through La Crosse this evening on the midnight Burlington for Rock Island, Ill., his former home, where interment will be made tomorrow.

A number of his acquaintances from this city will attend the funeral.

"COPPER" LEADS IN WILD BOOZE BOUT

PITTSBURG, March 24.—Policeman David Lennox, while intoxicated gathered about ten rascals and chased them into a saloon. Leaning up against the bar and said:

"You fellows never had enough whisky in your lives, but you are going to have your fill now. The fellow who does not drink ten whiskies now and two gins with a schooner of beer to top off will get licked first and arrested later. I pay for everything."

The gang fell in a hurry, fearing Lennox might change his mind. One by one they fell to the floor or reeled into a corner. Henry Thompson dropped like a shot as he raised his eighth glass to his lips and he died later in the patrol wagon on the way to the police station. There was a giant negro, however, who out-drunk them all. His name is not known to the Passavant hospital people, where he is dying tonight, but his record will stand for years. He drank fourteen glasses of whisky, but swooned on his fifteenth. Several other men are in hospitals in critical condition.

INQUEST HELD OVER ALLEGED ANARCHIST

CHICAGO, March 24.—Coroner Hoffman began the inquest over Lazarus Averbuch today. Olgo Averbuch was the first witness, and was on the stand only a short time, on account of her physical condition.

She related her brother's home life and identified letters he wrote and a photograph which the police seized. She denied her brother said he wanted to commit suicide.

Miss Georgia Shippy, daughter of the chief, and Theresa Tauber, a maid at the Shippy home, testified to events surrounding the shooting.

Neither could swear Averbuch had a knife or pistol on his person when he went to the house.

Both testified they had not seen blood on Chief Shippy when he first entered the room after the shooting.

Chief Shippy, Assistant Schnettler and Driver Foley were allowed to remain in the room because they are police officers. Other witnesses were excused.

SINGERS INVITED TO MILWAUKEE

The local Saengerfest association this morning received an invitation from the Liedertafel society of Milwaukee to attend their "Golden Jubilee Celebration," which will be held at that city on March 31.

Secretary John L. Utermoehl said he did not know just who would attend, but that no doubt a large delegation from La Crosse would represent the 1908 Saengerfest.

The celebration will be held at the Liedertafel hall.

Secretary Gustav Ehrigott of the Liedertafel society signed the invitation, which has also been extended to other surrounding societies.

GASOLINE STOVE CAUSES FIRE

Central fire department was last evening at 6 o'clock called to the home of Mrs. Ida Pope, 220 South Fifth street, where a young man had tried to light a gasoline stove and set fire to the partition. He narrowly escaped severe burns. The damage was small.

Mrs. Ida McAllen has returned from Chicago.

OUR READERS APPRECIATIVE

That the readers of this paper appreciate advice when given in good faith is plainly demonstrated by the fact that one well-known local pharmacy filled the "vegetable prescription" many times within the past two weeks. Most of these folks naturally bought the ingredients only and mixed them at home. The announcement of this simple, harmless mixture has certainly accomplished much in reducing the great many cases of kidney complaint and rheumatism here, relieving pain and misery, especially among the older population, who are always suffering more or less with bladder and urinary troubles, backache and particularly rheumatism.

Another well-known druggist asks us to continue the announcement of the prescription. It is doing so much real good here, he continues, that it would be a crime not to do so. It can not be repeated too often, and further states many cases of remarkable cures wrought.

The following is the prescription, of simple ingredients, making a harmless, inexpensive compound, which any person can prepare by shaking well in a bottle: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Any first-class drug store will sell this small amount of each ingredient, and the dose for adults is one teaspoonful to be taken after each meal and again at bedtime. There is enough here to last for one week, if taken according to direction. Good results will be apparent from the first few doses.

Arrangements for Tickets

Rev. George C. Rheinfrank, formerly pastor of the First German M. E. church here, who has charge of the arrangements for the local Chautauqua, says that it will be necessary to sell at least 1,000 season tickets in advance here. The tickets will be distributed among the business men and will be on sale this week. The course will cost $1.50 in advance or $2.00 at the gates.

In arranging to hold the affair at or near Myrick park it is calculated that the people can bring their lunch and eat it in the park. It is likely the stalls in the fair grounds will be secured for automobiles and horses.

You are requested to attend the funeral of Archer Paul Giehm, 1:30 Wednesday afternoon, from the residence, 1112 South Sixth street.

The trouble about the pretty new modes in jewelry is that they take a "rage" and grow horribly common. Not so with these excuses yet very reasonably priced things we are showing. Belt pins and buckles, collar pins, lockets, hat pins, combs, bracelets, purses, fobs and so on, and this is the time of times when you want them.

SUSPECT MURDER AT WEST SALEM

CORONER CRONON HOLDING AN INQUEST THERE TODAY

B. REITER DIED IN STALL

And Residents of the Village Ask That Body be Exhumed to Prove Just How He Came to His Death

Humane Agent A. J. Phillips of West Salem was in La Crosse yesterday calling on District Attorney Boshard, as representative of the citizens of West Salem regarding the case of B. Reiter, a farmhand who was reported to have been kicked to death by a horse while sleeping in a barn at that place about three months ago.

The citizens of the village are not satisfied as to the manner in which Reiter came to his death and ask an inquest.

Several stories have been circulated regarding the case and Attorney Boshard ordered Coroner Edward Cronon to go to West Salem this morning and conduct an inquest. Evidence will be taken and a thorough investigation made.

DESPONDENT MOTHER LEAPS INTO CISTERN

The bodies would be found in the well. The letter stated that grief over the lost one prompted the deed.

About two months ago their nine-year-old son Alfred was brought to the St. Francis hospital for an operation for appendicitis. The child failed to survive the operation, and since then the mother has been suffering with nervous prostration from the effects of grief over the loss of her little one.

Father-in-Law's Story.

Wenzel Breidel, Sr., father of the husband of the suicide, in relating the story, tells the following story: "My son left the home about 8:30 in the morning to go to a neighboring farm to assist in the dressing of some hogs and when he left Mrs. Breidel stated that she was going to wash. Breidel, Jr., however, told her not to if she felt sick, and when he left his wife said she would go and visit her parents on a neighboring farm. Breidel proceeded to the neighboring farm, stating that he would return in a short time as the dressing would not take long.

He returned to the house about 11 o'clock in the morning and on entering the house found all the doors open and two inside doors, in the hall, were tied together with a piece of string. He called his wife's name and started a search, but could not locate anyone, and then he went to a neighboring farm, where she would have passed had she gone to her parents. On inquiring he found that she had not passed. With several friends he returned to the house and after searching the premises discovered that several boards on the cistern were taken up.

Takes Corpse from Well

He looked into the well, which is only about nine feet deep and saw his wife's arm a little above the water, which was colored white, his wife having turned a can of milk into it before jumping in. He immediately got a ladder and with a rope dragged the corpse of his wife out and going down again found the body of his son.

Later searching the house he found a letter, which had been written by his wife February 22, in which she explained that she intended to kill herself and child. According to the letter she had asked the child if he wanted to go with his mother to Alfred (the dead boy) or if he wanted to go with his father. The lad, only 4 years old, said he wanted to go with his mother.

In writing the letter in February, the act was obviously planned. Although her actions about the home showed that she grieved over the loss of her other child, they did not in any way show suicidal intention.

Deceased is about 40 years old. When her son Alfred, who died Feb. 9, was ill at the hospital, Mrs. Breidel remained at the hospital, caring for him about a month and when the child passed away she was in a weak condition from loss of sleep and anxiety over the child. Mrs. Breidel was not alone in her grief, for the other boy Frank mourned the loss of his little brother, and was restless and seemed willing to go with his mother "to Alfred."

Dr. W. Tillman of Stoddard was called to the home last night and an inquest is being held this afternoon. Dr. Tillman stated that the case was clearly shown to be suicide.

The funeral arrangements have not been made as yet. Mrs. Theo. Mannstedt of this city is in charge and will conduct the funeral.

QUIET WEDDING

At the Norwegian Lutheran parsonage last evening occurred the marriage of Mr. Julius W. Zellmes and Emma L. Hier. The ceremony was a quiet affair, only the contracting parties being in attendance. Rev. H. G. Magnusson conducted the services and Louis Nack acted as best man while Miss Mary Hanson was bridesmaid.

The groom is employed at the G. Heileman Brewing company in the bottling department. They will make their future home at 1202 South Fourth street.

CARD OF THANKS

In the recent serious illness of my son, Rev. L. L. Sanders, many friends, and particularly the members of the Baptist church, have been very kind. I wish to thank all who have helped us and offered helpful words during this time of sickness and anxiety.

Several representatives of the department, besides several senators and congressmen will be present at this meeting.

The growth of the national association during the past year has been tremendous and over 20,000 clerks now belong.

Since October 1st, 1907, the state association has nearly doubled its membership and will be entitled to three delegates at the national convention which meets at Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 7th to 11th 1908.

At the last state convention which was held at Madison, Wis., Gus M. Wenzel was elected one of the delegates at large to represent the state association at Birmingham, Ala.

"The R. L. Kenyon Company" has been incorporated with a capital stock of $25,000. The incorporators being R. L. Kenyon, president and general manager; M. W. Gear, vice president, and G. W. Thompson, secretary and treasurer.

The concern takes over the business that has heretofore been conducted by R. L. Kenyon, and which has grown to such proportions as to make it necessary to increase the capitalization.

The principal part of the firm's production will be auto-heat tops and life preserver cushions, the demand for which extends throughout this country and Canada. In addition to this the company will make a specialty of handling motor boats and accessories and will also continue in the furniture and general contract upholstery business.

The retail store on Main street will be continued, but the factory will be removed at once to the building now occupied by the La Crosse Cornice company, at 110 South Second street.

THREATENS TO ENJOIN CITY

Andy Gilbertson, proprietor of the Mecca saloon, this morning made complaint to the clerk of the board of public works that he would serve an injunction on the city to prevent them from shutting off his water.

It seems that Mr. Gilbertson's meter has been leaking. Under the old schedule of rate he paid a flat rate of $12.50 whereas he is now asked to pay $39 and the board threatens to remove his service unless this is paid. Mr. Gilbertson refuses to say anything about the matter.

KOREANS CONCERNED IN ATTEMPT TO KILL

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—It is learned today three Koreans were concerned in the attack on D. W. Stevens. The third was mixed up in the shooting, but posed as a friend of M. Koike, Japanese consul, and sought to extract important papers Stevens carried. Koike frustrated the attempt. The papers are supposed to contain statements regarding the Japanese protectorate in Korea. The Japanese are greatly excited, fearing more trouble. The Koreans are lauding the would-be assassins.

GOOD BLOOD

NATURE'S PROTECTION AGAINST DISEASE

The preservation of health and prevention against disease is almost entirely dependent upon pure, healthy blood; every organ, tissue, nerve and sinew of the body draws on this vital fluid for nourishment and strength. Poisons, humors and germs from various sources often get into the blood, and then this great life-stream becomes a source of infection and disease, instead of a nourishing, health-sustaining fluid. Heredity is likewise an important factor, regulating the quality of the blood. Some persons are born with tainted blood from diseased ancestry, and Scrofula in one of its numerous forms is sure to crop out some time in life. Not only poisons in the blood are responsible for disease, but when the circulation is run down and becomes poor and weak in quality, then we see the effect in a general bad condition of health, such as weakness, sallow complexion, boils, and various skin eruptions. All blood troubles require a tonic and blood purifier, and none other equals S. S. S. It goes down to the very foundation of the trouble, and removes every particle of the poison or impurity from the blood. And not only does S. S. S. antidote the poisons, humors and germs, but it possesses health-giving, tonic properties, which build up and strengthen weak, impoverished blood, and fortifies the system against disease. S. S. S. permanently cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Eczema, Tetters, and all other skin diseases and disorders. Book on the blood and any medical advice free.

DIRECTS ENGLISH FOREIGN POLICY

SIR EDWARD GREY.

LONDON, Eng., March 21.—Sir Edward Grey, British foreign minister, is very prominent in English foreign policy. His every utterance, either in parliament or interviews, is being quoted by the press. It is of great moment what he has to say regarding Britain's attitude on the near east situation, as well as the Anglo-Japanese treaty, which as to the coolie immigration is of significance to the United States.

That Russia has robbed England of Persian trade, and that there are possibilities of a world war over the Balkans, is admitted, hence Sir Edward Grey is in hot water continually in parliament, but he is a friend of peace and a shrewd statesman, and it is said that as long as he is in office there need be no fear of war.

Sir Edward belongs to a family of great administrators. His great-grandfather, the first Earl Grey, was a distinguished soldier who was sent in 1794 to reduce the West Indies. His great-grandfather was created a baronet in 1814; his grandfather, whom the present baronet succeeded, filled many high ministerial positions. Sir Edward was born in 1862. At the age of 20 he married Miss Dorothy Widdington, whose death in 1906 was a great blow to Sir Edward. He has sat for the Berwick-on-Tweed division of Northumberland since 1885, and was under secretary for foreign affairs from 1892 to 1895.

COTTON GAMBLERS ATTACKED IN HOUSE

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 24.—Representative Burleson of Texas is leading a second attack upon the men who gamble in cotton. This has been a pet hobby of Mr. Burleson's for many years and each session he has introduced a bill to do away with speculation in this staple product of the south. Burleson openly boasts that his object is to close up the cotton exchanges. He thinks they are iniquitous institutions designed to rob the hard-working cotton growers of the profits of their industry.

The Burleson bill makes it unlawful for any person or association to send or to receive by mail, telegraph or telephone, any message relating to a contract for future delivery of cotton without intending that the cotton so contracted for shall be actually delivered or received. Punishment by fines and imprisonment are provided for violation of the proposed law. There is also a prohibition against the sending by any of these agencies of any notes, accounts, or records of the transaction of any produce exchange covering contracts for future deliveries.

DELAY CHANGES IN NAVY UNIFORM

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 24.—It has been decided by the navy department to postpone any consideration of the changes which were contemplated in the uniform of officers and enlisted men. There has been a preliminary discussion of this important subject by a board which met about a year ago and the report of which has been put in printed form for circulation among officers whose opinions on the subject are now sought in a letter of instruction which has been sent to the commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet, and to the commanding officer of the Pacific fleet. By this means in the course of the next few months the bureau of navigation will be in possession of the views entertained by officers.

HEARST SAID TO BE AFTER BRYAN

NEW YORK, March 24.—It became known here that the Hearst people have about made up their minds to hold the national convention of the national party (the National Independence league) in Chicago, on or about July 21, and that in that meeting war will be declared on W. J. Bryan if the democrats select the man from Lincoln as their standard bearer.

As to Hearst's official announcement that the national party would not support Theodore Roosevelt, William J. Bryan, or Gov. Johnson of Minnesota, it is known that the Hearstites are determined first, last, and all the time to defeat Bryan at the polls in November should the Nebraska be nominated at Denver. There has never been a settlement of the differences between Hearst and Bryan. Bryan, on a recent visit to New York city, has called on Hearst, but Hearst has not been responsive.

WOMAN TO ADOPT 600 BABES TO TEACH

NEW YORK, March 24.—Mrs. Florence Fairview Wieland, vibratory baby raiser, has incorporated herself for a period of eighteen years under the title, "The Corporation of the Commonwealth." Mrs. Wieland is the high priestess of the corporation, which consists of her husband and Benjamin Franklin, and has just announced her intention of adopting 600 babies, sixty every year, for purposes of educating them in the laws of vibration.

"What is vibration?" repeated Mrs. Wieland in reply to a reporter's question. "Life, health, sanity, and sex can be controlled through understanding the laws of vibration. In fact, no life, health, or sanity can be real except through vibration. It is the law of the development of the soul."

MOUNTAIN LION SEEN IN CAMP

TOWER, Minn., March 24.—B. C. Everett was here from the dam and brought with him the startling news that a large mountain lion had been seen several times in the vicinity of the Alger-Smith camps. Mr. Everett states that on several occasions he and others have seen and examined the tracks which the huge animal had left in the fresh snow but a few hours before, and that they have measured five and one-half by six inches.

SHORTAGE OF 345 LOADS OF WOOD

LESS MEASURED DURING THE WINTER JUST CLOSED

FIGURES TELL THE STORY

$75.85 Was Taken in in January, 1907 While only $67.20 Was Netted During Last January

The ledger at the office of Comptroller William J. Fries shows that the amount of wood measured per month on the average during the winter of 1908 falls short of the number of cords and loads measured during the winter of 1907.

The banner month of 1907 was January, the number of cords measured during the month being 1,517, the receipts for which at the usual amount of 5 cents per load amounts to $75.85.

The receipts of January, 1908, are only $67.20, which shows that 1,344 loads were measured, which is 173 loads less than was measured during the same month in 1907.

The receipts for the winters of 1906-07 and of 1907-08 and the corresponding number of loads measured are:

	Receipts.	Loads.
December, 1906	$51.45	1,029
January, 1907	75.85	1,517
February, 1907	62.85	1,257
March, 1907	21.45	429
Total for winter 1906-07	4,232	loads.

	Receipts.	Loads.
December, 1907	$45.70	914
January, 1908	67.20	1,344
February, 1908	65.00	est 1,300
Total for three months, 1907-08	3,558	loads.

Shortage in the amount measured during the three months in 1907 and in 1908 is shown by the above table to be 345 loads.

OFFICIALS TO FEAST AT MANITOWOC

MANITOWOC, Wis., March 24.—A party of eight Wisconsin Central officials will visit Manitowoc tomorrow at the special invitation of Thomas Higgins, president of the Manitowoc City club, and will be tendered a reception in the evening at the City club rooms, to which business men and citizens of Manitowoc will be invited.

The visit will mark an epoch in the development of the city. The Wisconsin Central regards Manitowoc as one of its most important terminals, and the visit here will be with a view of talking over conditions with the business men, shippers and merchants.

GETS GIRL BY TAKING POISON

WEST POINT, Ga., March 24.—By an attempt to kill himself because he was refused the hand of Miss May White, Roy Davis of Columbus aroused the sympathy of the girl's parents, and they allowed her to wed her captor. The wedding was fixed for yesterday. Davis went to the girl's home and was told he could not marry her. He then swallowed laudanum. The girl's parents in alarm called physicians, and when Davis was out of danger consented to the marriage.

AUTHORITIES HUNT POISON EVIDENCE

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., March 24.—The body of J. L. Larson of Fossand, for whose death his wife and Eleanor O'Neil, an old man, are alleged to be responsible, was exhumed Sunday. Dr. Heaton of Chicago removed the stomach and will conduct an analysis. It probably will be a week before the report on the autopsy is made known.

ECZEMA ONLY SKIN DEEP

Local Cure of Disposed Surface Now Recognized as Proper Treatment.

In gathering data for an address before the Pathological Club, Dr. D. D. Dennis, the skin specialist of Chicago, prepared a table of results on microscopic blood examinations of 468 sufferers from skin disease.

These tests were from the blood of persons who had called at his office within a period of two years. Less than 10 per cent of all these cases showed anything at all the matter with the blood, and in not a single instance could the physicians present trace the slightest connection between the skin affection and the blood humor.

This personal experience furnished the Chicago physician with the basis for a brilliant exposition of his contention that Eczema, psoriasis, salt rheum, barber's itch and other skin diseases are first and last diseases of the skin and have nothing at all to do with the blood. At the conclusion of his paper Dr. Dennis was congratulated on his demonstration by the prominent medical men present.

For several years Dr. Dennis has allowed a private company to manufacture and sell his celebrated compound of thymol glycerine and oil of wintergreen known as D. D. D. Prescription, and it was particularly gratifying to him that other first-class physicians, free from prejudice and jealousy, should recommend the D. D. D. Prescription to all skin sufferers.

It is simply wonderful—the instant relief—the complete taking away of the itch the very moment this oil of wintergreen compound is applied to the skin. We know, we vouch for it! Hoeschler Bros. Just try it. We recommend D. D. D. Prescription especially when used with D. D. D. Soap. Call at our store and we will tell you more about this scientific cure.

CALLED A SKUNK, DARKIE OBJECTS

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., March 24.—Henry Hudson, colored and erstwhile candidate for mayor, had Albert Brooks of this city placed under arrest for calling him a "nigger." The specific charge made was disorderly conduct. Brooks and Hudson got into an altercation in front of Hudson's store owing to Brooks saying he "smelled a skunk," which Hudson took as an insult. Brooks was warned to be on his good behavior hereafter.

LA FOLLETTE WINS PRAISE OF CUMMINS

NEW YORK, March 24.—Gov. A. B. Cummins of Iowa, who arrived here to attend the Iowa Society dinner, is positive that Gov. Hughes will not be the presidential candidate. "Taft is the strongest possibility for candidate on the republican ticket," said he. "The people throughout the west have already made up their minds that Taft and Bryan will be the opponents. If Taft is not nominated then it will be Roosevelt himself."

1,500 MORE MEN IN MARINE CORPS

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 24.—Fifteen hundred additional men are proposed to be added to the marine corps, and the rank of the commandant of that branch raised from brigadier-general to that of major-general in a bill ordered reported favorably by the house committee on naval affairs. The present strength of the corps is approximately 9,000 enlisted men and officers. Sixty-seven per cent of the force is on foreign service, and all of it is about due to be relieved for return to the United States.

This is Worth Remembering
Whenever you have a cough or cold, just remember that Foley's Honey and Tar will cure it. Do not risk your health by taking any but the genuine. It is in a yellow package. O. T. Erhart.

Diet vs. Cosmetics

Good Food Clears the Complexion.

The best "Beauty Doctor" in the world is a good, pure food. Rich, greasy, or poorly cooked foods will ruin the finest complexion a woman was ever blessed with, and all the cosmetics and treatments she may give it will only cover up, not remove the blemishes.

The treatment must come from the inside, for the pores of the skin must have the proper food to be healthy.

A lady living in the West of London, England, writes as follows:
"Grape-Nuts food has done me a world of good. Some years ago I fell a victim to a serious illness, which did great damage to my constitution. I gave up hope of ever recovering my natural good health until last winter, when tempted to try Grape-Nuts more from a liking for that kind of food than from any hope of it doing me good."

"I found to my surprise after trial of a week or two that I was getting quite plump, my voice much stronger, and my complexion was becoming beautifully clear. In fact, since eating Grape-Nuts my friends say I look 10 years younger, and I believe them, as my glass tells me it is true."

WANT MONEY TO FINISH RAILWAY

$1,000,000 ISSUE OF STOCK
WOULD DO THE TRICK

SOME STOCKHOLDERS AGREE

Application Will Be Made in Court by First Line at Early Date; Reports of Inactivity in Racine.

Chicago, Ill., March 24.—A petition for authority to issue $1,000,000 in receivers certificates for the completion of the Wisconsin division of the Chicago and Milwaukee Electric Railroad will be presented to Judge Grosscup by the receivers of the line in two or three days. Attorney Howard M. Carter, representing the receivers, made the announcement today that the affairs of the company were now in shape to place the matter in the hands of the court. A public hearing will be held probably the first of next week, though so far as is known the plan to complete the line has no opponents.

Supplementing the contemplated action of the receivers, it is announced that the holders of bonds representing over $5,000,000 of the $10,000,000 issue of the Wisconsin corporation have made deposits of their securities with the bondholders' committee, agreeing to the certificate issue.

CLAIM ROAD IS RETRENCHING.

RACINE, Wis., March 24.—Reports have reached this city that the line of the Chicago and Milwaukee Electric railway between Racine and Milwaukee will not be completed this year. Receivers of the corporation are said to have decided upon this postponement because of the inability to secure money to go ahead. It is also announced that the heads of many departments are being let out. Among the number already on the shelf are William Scott, superintendent of construction; Frank Garrity, chief engineer; C. D. Phenecil, electrical engineer; and Mr. Kilman, general ticket agent.

FIND IRON IN SAUK COUNTY

BARABOO, Wis., March 24.—It is predicted that Sauk county will double in population within the next ten or fifteen years. The prediction is based on the fact that several valuable iron veins have been located in this vicinity by means of diamond drills. Thousands of dollars have been expended in prospecting in Sauk county within the last five years by the various steel corporations and the work still continues.

BISHOP CONSECRATED TODAY.

RACINE, Wis., March 24.—(Special.)—The Rev. H. D. Ribonson, D. D., warden of Racine college, will be consecrated to the bishopric of the missionary district of the Episcopal church in Nevada here tomorrow. Many prominent churchmen will participate.

A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as a savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lags in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with overwork. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, dependent, frequent headaches, pain or distress in "small of back," snoring or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, or "rising" in the throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will restore you more promptly or cure you more thoroughly than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

The "Discovery" is non-secret, non-alcoholic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle, upper and attested under oath. Its ingredients are endorsed and extolled by the most eminent medical writers of the age and are recommended to cure the diseases for which it is advised.

Don't accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret medicine of known composition.

DARING YOUNG MEN BRAVE
DEATH AT APPLETON

CROWDS CHEER TO THE ECHO

Firemen Did Not Dare to Attempt
the Daring Rescue, but Young Men Carry Out Machine Safely

APPLETON, Wis., March 24.—While flames raged around them and the stairs on which they climbed threatened to collapse and hurl them into the seething fire beneath, Walter Plamann and John Schleitweiler all undaunted forged their perilous way into the office of the Appleton Paper Box factory and performed a most heroic rescue, saving from a horrible death by burning the typewriter who was imprisoned in the office in the third story of the building.

When the noble youths became aware of the fact that the typewriter was in deadly peril, they gallantly swore to rescue her or die in the attempt. The firemen did not dare to undertake the hazardous rescue, so Mr. Plamann secured a ladder from the truck and leaning it against the building, proceeded to scale the heights, while the throng below cheered him to the echo and the tongues of the flames mocked him on all sides. Bravely he gained the roof from whence windows led to the office, but the man was forced to give up the attempt and to seek another way of rescuing the typewriter whose danger was now increasing, and who would soon be burned beyond all hope if succor came not. Then John Schleitweiler and Walter Plamann, equipped only with a lantern and their stout hearts, climbed the stairs of the factory, facing peril at every step, but at last reaching the office. Mr. Schleitweiler was greeted with the plaudits of the multitude, whose cheers drowned the noise of the fire and the water, when he appeared on the tottering steps with the typewriter safe in his arms. Thus was the rescue accomplished.

Of course, the typewriter is a machine, not a girl.

FIREMEN'S ANNUAL CONVENTION IN JUNE

LAKE MILLS, Wis., March 24.—(Special.)—The twenty-first annual convention and tournament of the Wisconsin State Firemen's association will be held here on June 24, 25 and 26. It is planned by the local volunteer department to eclipse the record for attendance made at Horicon last year.

"There has yet to be a tournament week without rain," said Fred H. Henry of Jefferson, the secretary, while here making arrangements. "In the twenty-one years that the association has been holding the tournaments, not one year has passed without a cloudburst just in the middle of the running races. The hook and ladder team of my home town, Jefferson, broke the world's record at the Lake Geneva meeting ten years ago despite the rain. The time was 2:29 1-5. This has never been in danger. The nearest approach has been 3:02 5-8."

Only volunteer firemen of Wisconsin are eligible to membership in the association.

PRIMARY ELECTION IS HELD TODAY

MILWAUKEE, March 24.—(Special.)—This is primary election day in Wisconsin. In every city the voters are balloting for city officials, nominees on whom the final vote will be cast on April 7. As usual, the hottest fight in the state is in Milwaukee. Up to this noon the voting has been very heavy, and far beyond that of the last primary. The fight between Rose and Sherbie Becker of 1906 is nearly overshadowed by the many-cornered fight for the nomination today. The primary in this city today reminds the politicians of the old time elections. Many of the smaller cities of Wisconsin have spared the expense of a primary by nominating candidates in caucus.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

CHIPPEWA FALLS.—Being put off the train at Thorpe because he was afflicted with smallpox, L. E. Swan, a well known Bloomer livery man, rushed into a livery barn in that village, secured a rig and came to this city. After driving about the streets for some time, one of the policemen hustled him to the pest-house.

CHIPPEWA FALLS.—A package of paris green in a bale of hay killed Game Warden De Long's valuable driving horse. Whether the package had been placed in the hay out of spite is not known.

OSHKOSH.—St. John's Universalist church will receive $500 through the will of the late Mrs. Orissa M. Harney.

RACINE.—On account of the county jail being filled with prisoners, the spring house cleaning must be postponed. Not only is this true in regard to the jail, but also the county house.

KENOSHA.—Charles Bissell and Pearl Wilmot, the Chicago couple arrested several days ago on a serious statutory charge, waived examination and were held for trial.

The trouble is that no one ever tells a woman the truth but her husband, and she thinks he can't speak it.

Your Way

You bake beans in a home oven.
The maximum heat is 200 degrees. In the center of the baking dish, by actual test, it is about 100 degrees.
It requires a fierce heat to break down the fibre of beans, and you cannot supply it.
The result is a heavy food, hard to digest.

You bake beans in a dry heat.
The result is the top beans are crisped. The beans in the center are not even half baked.
You burst the skins, so that the beans become mushy, rather than mealy. Every bean should be whole.

You add the tomato sauce afterwards. It becomes then a dressing, not a part of the beans.

You spend hours in the soaking, the boiling, the baking; and consume considerable fuel.

The bother is irksome. The dish that results is not very good, nor good for you. You think once a week is enough.

Yet it isn't your fault. You simply lack the facilities.

Our Way

We heat our ovens to 245 degrees.
A thermometer is attached to each oven, so the heat never varies. We bake the beans 90 minutes.
That terrific heat separates the atoms, so the digestive juices can get to them. A lesser heat will not do it. Beans, to be digestible, must be factory cooked.

We bake in live steam.
The result is, each separate bean is baked thoroughly, and all are baked alike. None are browned, none are broken.

The beans are baked until they are mealy. Yet they are nutty because they are whole.

We bake the beans, the tomato sauce and the pork all together, and get our delicious blend.

We send our beans to you ready to serve.

Put the can in hot water ten minutes—then open. That's all. You then have a steaming hot meal, fresh and savory.

And such a meal! Your people will want Van Camp's every day when they know them. So keep a dozen cans in the house.

Van Camp's PORK AND BEANS

You don't know what you miss—you who don't use Van Camp's. Beans are Nature's choicest food—23% nitrogenous; 84% nutriment. Like meat in their food value; not like it in cost. They are appetizing and hearty; all people like them. They should be a daily dish—not an occasional. You will eat more of them when you know Van Camp's.

We Pay $3.45

We could buy tomato juice for 75c per barrel. Yet we pay $3.45 for just the ripe tomatoes used in a barrel of ours.

The difference is this: Cheap tomato sauce is made from tomatoes picked green and ripened in shipment. Such sauce is flat.

Else it is made of scraps from a canning factory. Such sauce is not rich.

We use only whole tomatoes ripened on the vines, picked when the juice fairly sparkles.

Thus we supply that superlative zest, that flavor, that tang, which Nature alone can give.

We spend exactly five times as much to make this sauce as other sauce costs ready-made. But you will say the result is worth it.

We Pay $2.10

We could buy beans as low as 30c per bushel, yet we pay $2.10 for ours.

We buy Michigan beans, because a certain soil there produces the best beans grown.

The choicest part of the crop is picked over by hand, so we get only the whitest, the plumpiest, the fullest-grown.

We use only succulent, corn-fed pork.

No wonder your grocer has brands that cost less, yet pay him a better profit.

But you won't like the cheap beans. Your people won't eat them often.

It is far more economical to serve the best beans—beans that you can't serve too often. Then serve them in place of meat.

We have spent 47 years in perfecting this dish. And Van Camp's now command, by several times over, the largest sale in the world.

Prices: 10, 15 and 20c per can.

Van Camp Packing Company, Established 1861 Indianapolis, Indiana.

FARMERS ON WILDCAT CHASE

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis., March 24.—(Special.)—Jake Nickerson, a farmer, has discovered a wildcat in his woods, and a number of hunting parties have unsuccessfully chased the beast. Mr. Nickerson found tracks like those of a house cat near his barn, and on investigating was attacked by the animal. He beat it off with a club and got away while the wildcat was recovering its senses.

PARIS LOCKOUT MAY INVOLVE 200,000

PARIS, March 24.—A building trades lockout that may involve 200,000 men is impending here as a result of the demands made by trade unions on the employers.

The men declare that in two years the cost of living in Paris has risen 30 per cent, and they demand 30 per cent increase in wages, a uniform working day of nine hours and that they shall not be obliged to work with men who do not belong to the union.

The masters offer an increase in wages of 25 per cent, fifty-two rest days a year, a ten-hour working day for eight months in the year, nine hours in November and February, and eight hours in December and January. They refuse to make a distinction between union and non-union workmen. M. Viviani, the minister of labor, has offered his mediation, but it has, curiously enough, been refused by both parties on the ground that it would tend to evenom the situation.

LATEST VICTIM OF BANDIT RAISULI

CAID SIR HENRY MACLEAN

This picture of Sir Henry MacLean was drawn by S. Berg and is reproduced by the courtesy of the Illustrated London News. This picture was made immediately after his return to Tangier and is considered an excellent likeness of the Caid.

Caid Sir Henry MacLean is another victim of the world's most successful bandit Ahmed Ben Mohamed Ben Raisuli. He was held a prisoner for seven months, undergoing extraordinary hardships forced upon him by the bandit and was at last ransomed by the British government for $100,000. The Caid is 60 years old but upon his return was in excellent health and in his ever cheerful spirits. Raisuli is only 35 years of age, and with his band of associates, has been able to fatten on intrigue and treachery for a number of years at the expense of various governments.

Now that Raisuli has been given $25,000 to divide among the tribes which aided him in keeping MacLean and $75,000 to be held in trust by the British legation with the provision that Raisuli may draw its income, estimated at about $250 a month, it is expected that Raisuli will be "good." It is true that some irksome provisions have been saddled upon him by the prudent British officials. He is liable to the forfeiture of British protection and the $75,000 if he fails to reside where the British government directs, or if he makes any more ventures in land piracy.

Should Raisuli seize any citizen of any country it will develop upon Great Britain to get him back again. For Raisuli now is a protégé of Great Britain. The British government has been led into too many more or less humiliating dances by Raisuli to brook anything more from him. It would seem. Therefore there is a chance that even yet the bandit may be the means of changing the complexion of the turbulent politics of Morocco. If Raisuli goes wrong again there certainly is a good chance of it.

Cruel.

It was at the Schweizerhof in Luzerne. Several American guests were standing in the lobby, and one or two were looking at the hotel register. "Ah!" said one, "I see Baron Confetti and his American bride are here—on their honeymoon, eh?" Another was a cynic. "I should say harvest moon, rather," he answered.—Everybody's Magazine.

FOSS IS DEFENDER OF AMERICAN NAVY

GEORGE E. FOSS

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21.—The defender of the navy and its most consistent friend in the lower house of congress is George E. Foss of Chicago. He is chairman of the committee on naval affairs and a vigorous defender of everything pertaining to and connected with the American navy. He unsparingly scores those critics who assume to find fault with American naval construction, and declares that man for man, ship for ship and ton for ton, the American navy is absolutely the best in the world. No man is entitled to greater credit in the accomplishment of this end than Foss himself.

WALL PAPER AT OYEN'S

MINNESOTA AND THE NORTHWEST

MAN WHO GAVE THE ALARM IS ACCUSED

SELTZ, ALIAS CLARK, HELD FOR DAKOTA MURDER

JURY RETURNS AN OPINION

Circumstantial Evidence Indicates He Is Guilty and Warrant Will be Issued by Court

SIoux FALLS, S. D., March 24.—John Fitzgibbon, P. J. Morstad and H. C. Wilson, the jury summoned by Coroner Miller to investigate the murder last Monday night of Henry Theodore Soltman in a lonely cabin on the banks of the Big Sioux river, about three miles northeast of the business center of Sioux Falls, returned a verdict which concludes as follows:

"That Henry Theodore Soltman came to his death by a gunshot wound Monday, March 16, between the hours of 5 and 7:30 p. m., and the jury believes from all circumstantial evidence, said shot was feloniously fired by John Joseph Seltz, alias John J. Clark."

Seltz or Clark turned in the alarm himself soon after the tragedy but was taken into custody and is in the county jail, and in view of the above verdict the formal charge of murder or manslaughter will now be made against him. The verdict of the jury in deciding that circumstances point to Seltz or Clark as being the murderer of his employer, bears out the general belief of those who have followed the case closely.

THE REDPATH PLAN OF CHAUTAUQUA

The Redpath Chautauqua system, which brings a Chautauqua here in June, is simply the organized application of the principle of distribution of labor applied to the business of supplying the demand for intellectual entertainments. The same principle has made it possible for the farmer to buy a better plow for $12.50 than his forbears could buy with $25. Organization, purchase of material in large quantities, informed and expert direction and conservation of energy have made production cheap, scientifically accurate and useful to the highest degree. So the complete organization of the Redpath Chautauqua system, its power to buy talent in the mass, sort, separate and classify it and extend its distribution over half the west and all over the east, has given the Redpath Lyceum Bureau and the Redpath Chautauqua system their opportunity to purvey Chautauqua talent of the most exclusive class at a cost to its patrons ridiculously low when compared to that assumed by the community that finances and conducts its own Chautauqua. It is scarce easier but it is plainly much more in line with the economy of the age to conduct 100 Chautauquas instead of one. The possibilities of a Chautauqua circuit of six where each audience is waiting the attraction who filled a date the day before at another of the six points in the circle, the economy in contracts, expenses of transportation, etc., etc., are too apparent to need recapitulation. Suffice it to say that an attraction that would cost the all home Chautauqua $200 and $45 expenses of hotel and transportation is placed for a period of weeks at a cost that would open the eyes of the guarantor of the all home plan who has gone over the expense account previous to "digging up" his share of the deficit.

It is all logical, scientific, economical and practical. Just the ordinary business common sense. Comparison of the Redpath System Chautauqua programs with those of the other and more expensive plan is encouraged. In balance, quality, variety, and class the system will be seen to have all the advantages. Why? For the same reason that an automobile factory turns out a product impossible to the cross roads, blacksmith shop. Organization; faculty for procuring the best material; the expert knowledge of the material and where it should be placed; is in the business as a business all the time and not for a week. Those are a few of the reasons.

How It Comes.

The Redpath Chautauqua System comes as a burden bearer. The Chautauqua is a settled fact. Every town of size and quality intends to hold a Chautauqua. If it is one of the all home sort enthusiasm begins to bubble early, the guaranty goes round and then half a dozen or a dozen men must carry the load, neglect their own business, assume additional worries and when all is over as a usual thing pay well from their own pockets for the privileges. The Redpath System requires no cash bond, asks no man's time. It says: Give us the assurance that we can sell about one-half as many season tickets as we shall have to sell in order to pay expenses and we will carry the burden. It furnishes the best in the intellectual and entertainment market. It goes away leaving all satisfied and ready to welcome it back next year. In a nut shell that is the plan and how it works. The tickets are placed with the merchants, are always sold and more demanded. They, the townspeople nor any but the Redpath System run risk of loss. It is a simple sensible business way of holding Chautauquas. Once tried it is rarely abandoned.

The great success of last year, the universal demand for return by the cities where the system gave Chautauquas and the enthusiastic praise

SENATOR CALHOUN IS GIVEN WARNING

BLACK HAND CRUELY DRAWN ON THREATENING NOTE

MAY BE ANARCHIST'S WORK

Or May Be a Joke Sprung by Friends Believe St. Paul Police Who Are Working on Case

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 24.—Following his announced intention of resorting to injunction if possible to prevent the public appearance of Emma Goldman, noted anarchist lecturer, in Minneapolis, and fired to rancorous resentment by his scathing utterances regarding the sect, some one has sent Senator John F. Calhoun a letter threatening his life. The letter reads:

"Beware, beware. Take warning! Any more cheap utterances from you and ZIP you go to—"

The letter was unsigned, but at the top of the sheet was scrawled the crude outline of a skull and crossbones. At the bottom of the page a hand, drawn with black ink, designated the emblem of the Black Hand.

The letter was not sent through the mail, but was delivered to the clerk of the West hotel, where the senator and his family are living, by a messenger of the A. D. T. It was received first by Mrs. Calhoun, who read it and suffered a nervous shock from the threat against her husband.

Senator Calhoun has placed the letter in the hands of detectives who are seeking to ferret out the author of it, but nothing has been yet learned. The clerk of the A. D. T. office, where the note was sent in for delivery, have no recollection of the sender.

Not a Bit Scared. Senator Calhoun feels little fear that the threat contained in the letter will be carried out, but to the contrary reiterated his denunciation of the anarchists and socialists collectively.

The police advance the theory that the letter may have been sent by some of Senator Calhoun's friends to have fun with him.

PUBLIC DOCUMENT FLOOD HIS DISTRICT

CONGRESSMAN DAVENPORT.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21.—Washington telephone directories are not considered good reading and the constituents of Representative Davenport of Oklahoma are informed him that they don't propose to be trifled with and will not permit any reflections upon their literary tastes. Mr. Davenport, like all other congressmen, is just now flooding his district with the public documents. On the approach of an election members gather together anything frank and send it home to impress the folks with the idea that they are not forgotten. Speeches are daily made in congress for this home consumption.

While many of the publications received by Mr. Davenport's constituents were not found useful, they were inclined to credit him with good intentions. But unfortunately for the Oklahoma statesman a number of Washington city telephone directories became mixed with his congressional documents and were scattered broadcast over his district. Now the people are demanding an explanation. They cannot understand what possible interest Mr. Davenport can conceive they may have in the Washington telephone directory.

MORE FOR THE GLORY OF THE THING THAN PROFIT—THESE MARVELOUS MID-WEEK OFFERINGS FOR WEDNESDAY

The laws of gravitation do not permit anything to remain stationary or still. We find this law to be true pertaining to our own existence as a Store; we must either go forward or backward. Backward we will NOT go—FORWARD we MUST stride. The period, one year ago, was one of the biggest weeks in all this great Store's selling history. We are BOUND to better the record of that week this year. Tomorrow's values will create a furore among buyers, it will be A RECORD MAKING—RECORD BREAKING BARGAIN EVENT.

A sale that will make a new mark for its record of extraordinary bargains, and break all past records for business. We cannot begin to tell all the matchless values. Best to come to the store. Here are the hints. MAIL ORDERS FILLED

A History Making Sale of Umbrellas 67c Values to $2.50 for

Think of it! 'tis almost unbelievable! but it's the word of the store. Therefore has the store back of the statement. The umbrellas are all perfect but mostly last year's stock—some look a little shop-weary—that's all. They want to go out and get a good shower bath and they'll hold up their heads with any of the aristocrats of umbrelladom. We take a decided loss on these "bumbershoots," but are determined to clean them out in a day to make room for incoming stocks. Many of these umbrellas are silk covered, worth to $2.50.

EUROPE UNDERSOLLS AMERICAN MAKERS

PITTSBURGH, March 24.—It is understood that for some years the manufacturers of aluminum in Europe and in this country have been operating under an agreement whereby the Pittsburgh Reducing company, which controls the sole rights in this country and in Canada for the manufacture of aluminum, has had the exclusive market on this side of the Atlantic, but now the agreement is believed to be inoperative and both English and German manufacturers are offering their output in this country at lower price than that of the American company, although the latter has the advantage of a duty on 8c per pound.

Has a Name Like a Noise.

Tudor Jenks, the author of many bits of humorous verse and prose, has always had difficulty when first meeting people in getting them to accept his name as his own. The other day, in front of the Fifth Avenue hotel, Mr. Jenks was an involuntary witness to a fight between two cab drivers. The men were promptly arrested and Mr. Jenks was hauled to court with them to tell what he had seen.

"What is your name?" asked the lawyer.

"Tudor Jenks."

"Once more, please."

"Tudor Jenks."

A sharp rap from the court, and this, explosively:

"Witness will stop making a funny noise and give his name!"—Saturday Herald.

PREACHER AND WELL KNOWN BREWER CALL

Much interest was caused at the city hall yesterday when Carl Michel, the well known brewer, rushed into the mayor's office, hurrying only to be followed in a few moments by Rev. J. J. Clemens. Everyone of course believed that the saloons were involved in the reform move. But, Mr. Michel simply called on a little ordinary business. Rev. Clemens stepped in and got an envelope which was lying on the mayor's desk and had been previously addressed to him. So everyone was "off" and the city hall officials are again at peace.

Time to Take Precautions.

The sexton of a "swell colored church" in Richmond was closing the windows during service when he was beckoned to the side of a young negro, the widow of a certain Thomas.

"Why is yo' shettin' dose winders, Mr. Jones?" she demanded in a hoarse whisper. "De air in dis church is suffocatin' now!"

"It's de minister's orders," replied the sexton, obstinately. "It's a cold day, Mis' Thomas, an' we ain't goin' to take no chance on losin' any o' de lambs of dis fold while dere's a big debt overhingin' d's church."—Savannah News.

Can But Won't. "In a battle of tongues between man and wife, I find that a woman can generally hold her own."

"Yes, I know, but she never does."—St. Louis Times.

POSTPONE ACTION ON JAPANESE EXCLUSION

WASHINGTON, March 24.—A tentative agreement has been reached between the house of representatives' delegation from the Pacific Coast and the house committee on foreign affairs, by which a program has been mapped out to postpone action on the Japanese exclusion bill until the next session of congress. The foreign affairs committee has told the Pacific coast men that, while it is satisfied the bill should be passed, it prefers to give ample time for a test of the executive steps that have been taken to solve the Japanese immigration problem. The coast men have argued that by next December the whole country will see that the president's arrangement with Japan is ineffective.

The committee is reported to be on such a frame of mind on the subject that it will report the bill for passage next session provided there is evidence that the administration's arrangement has been ineffective.

WILL REPORT NEW LIABILITY BILL

WASHINGTON, March 24.—On the authority of a member of the judiciary committee of the house of representatives, it is stated that an employers liability bill, meeting the constitutional requirements of the supreme court, will be reported to congress by that committee.

There is another fearful thing connected with laziness: lazy people always talk too much.
